"JAPS" CLAIM FORMIDABLE U. S. FLEET PROWLING THE WATERS OF FAR PACIFIC, POSSIBLY AIMING AT SOUTHERN OF MAIN ISLANDS OF JAPAN; RUMOR HAS NO CONFIRMATION

American Airmen Step Up Their Assaults On Kyushu

Chinese Clear Important Stretches of "Invasion Coast"

By Gerard R. Himmelsbach
L. N. S. Pacific Cable Editor Japanese quarters insisted today that a formidable U. S. fleet is prowling the waters of the far Pacific, aiming possibly at the southernmost of the main islands of Japan.

Following up earlier reports that a powerful task force steamed out of the Marianas Islands several days ago, the Jap broadcasts indicated the flotilla may be proceeding toward Kyushu. This was pure conjecture, however, for in fact the presence in those waters of any fleet units other than those supporting the Tenth Army on Okinawa went entirely unconfirmed in Allied circles.

However, American airmen in the last week have stepped up considerably their assaults on Kyushu, from which island the Japs have mounted considerable air opposition to the Yanks in the Okinawa area 325 miles to the southwest. Only last week-end, carrier-based warplanes of the U. S. Pacific Fleet hammered 15 Jap airdromes on Kyushu and Shikoku, destroying or damaging at least 284 enemy planes.

Moreover, since last Thursday, the Yanks have been steadily increasing their blows against the region.

The presence of a powerful American fleet in the Far Pacific at a time when the Chinese are clearing important stretches of the so-called "invasion coast" of China added to the Japanese jitters. In the broadcast describing the American force as "on the prowl," the Nip announcer said:

"We can surmise that the enemy is up to some new scheme.
"The enemy armada appears to be attempting to approach Kyushu, but we cannot as yet predict what course the enemy fleet will take."

In the vicious battle for Okinawa, elements of the First Marine Division drove forward in a bloody gain of almost a half mile and smashed the outer defenses of the Japanese bastion of Shuri.

The tough leathernecks engaged the fanatic Jap defenders in hand-to-hand fighting as they pushed forward one prong of a pincers closing in on the town. Tied with this blow was a 400-yard gain by units of the 77th Division bringing the doughboys within a few hundred yards north of Shuri. These gains were reported in a frontline dispatch.

Man Injured By Car As He Steps Off Sidewalk

A man was injured Saturday afternoon when, according to reports given to the Bristol police, he stepped into the side of an automobile which was passing Fleetwings Plant No. 1.

The injured:
Anthony Robertone, 65, 569 Locust street. Cuts of the upper left forearm which required 19 stitches.

According to police records, Robertone was coming out of Plant No. 1 of Fleetwings on Radcliffe street when a car going east and operated by Brant S. Wheeler, Philadelphia, was passing. Robertone is said to have stepped off the sidewalk into the side of the Wheeler car, striking the handle of the door.

The injured man was taken to the Harriman hospital and the accident was investigated by Officer Vanzant.

TITO'S FORCES EVACUATING TRIESTE

London—The main part of Marshal Tito's Yugoslav forces have evacuated the Adriatic port of Trieste, the Rome radio reported today.

However, the Italian broadcast said there was no sign of relaxation of tension in the city as the result of the move.

(A Reuters report from Trieste said that Tito's civil authorities had welcomed 2,000 Garibaldini-Italians who aided in the liberation of the port—and speakers urged that the Italian port be permitted autonomous rule. The dispatch added that apparently the speakers made no reference to the proposal that Trieste be incorporated into Yugoslavia.)

In London, diplomatic observers said they expected a further exchange of notes between Anglo-Americans and Marshal Tito on his occupation of the city.

The feeling among diplomats is that the Trieste problem, along with Polish and Austrian situation, will result in an early meeting of President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin.

OPINION SAME ABOUT TRIESTE

Trieste—A spokesman for the Yugoslav High Command told war correspondents today that there was no division of opinion among members of Marshal Tito's forces concerning Trieste.

Asked how Field Marshal Alexander's statement had been received by the Yugoslav troops, the spokesman said: "We have no divided policy.
We always carry out what Marshal Tito orders."

He denied there had been any intention of discarding the formula of an autonomous city of Trieste within a Democratic federated Yugoslavia.
He declared that that formula, even if it had not been generally heard throughout the world, had been repeated many times by Yugoslav leaders in speeches in Trieste.

(The British Broadcasting Corporation reported that Tito has 65,000 troops in Trieste.)

AGAIN ADVOCATES MILITARY TRAINING

Bracken Post Commander
Issues Another in Series Of Statements

OUTLINES THE POLICY

"Now is the time to adopt universal military training," says Harry A. Chapin, Post Commander of the Robert W. Bracken Post, No.
382, American Legion. The Bracken Post has been taking a decided stand for universal military training and has issued a number of statements advocating this policy.

Continuing, Mr. Chapin states over his title as Post Commander:
"A large standing army is un-economic and un-American. National safety with freedom from militarism is best assured by a National Citizen Army and Navy, based upon the democratic and American principle of the equality of obligation and opportunity for all."

"We favor a policy of Universal Military Training, and the administration of such policy should be removed from the complete control of any exclusively military caste." "We favor a national military and naval system based upon universal military obligation, to include a relatively small Regular Army and Navy and a civilian Army and Navy capable of rapid expansion, sufficient to meet any national emergency, on a plan which will provide competitive and progressive training for all officers."

"We recommend that military training be encouraged in high schools and colleges."
"We favor the continuance of training camps for the training and education of officers to serve in case of national requirement."

The above quotation is taken from The History of the American Legion. It tells of the action of the first national convention of the Legion at Minneapolis in 1919. The American Legion has not wavered from that declaration. It still demands a system of Universal Military Training, it demands that we rely upon a citizen Army, and it insists that there shall be no military caste in America. These objectives are possible and there is no conflict between them.

As participants in World War I, legion members had seen men die because they lacked sufficient training. They determined that this should not happen again, and one of their first acts as an organization was a declaration for Universal Military Training in peacetime. All were agreed that military unpreparedness had been far too costly in lives and in money, and during the years since 1919 The American Legion has again and again restated its position.

FUMBLING

Sudden frantic demands for a new conference of the Big Three—Churchill, Stalin and Truman—are only one of many indications that all is not well in Europe.

The collapse of Germany has brought vast new problems seemingly far beyond the capacity of Washington's bureaucrats to handle.

The international unity and co-operation which were supposed to have been found at San Francisco apparently got mislaid in transit—indicating that there may be truth in the earlier conjectures that President Roosevelt's death made advisable a new Big Three meeting before the all-nation peace talks were held.

Meanwhile, voluntary and involuntary censorship are withholding much information from the people of this country, who need the facts to decide whether the State Department and President Truman are leading them where they wish to follow.

The censorship ranges from discouraging frank discussion of the differences which appear to have risen between America and England on the one side and Russia on the other, down to such absurdities as American newspapermen being punished for trying to visit Berlin after the end of hostilities.

The trickle of news which does emerge from Europe is disquieting.

In the announcement of the plans to transfer our military resources to the Japanese front, it was made clear that there is to be a standing army of at least 400,000 Americans left in Germany. This one detachment is larger than the combined total of regular army and National Guard in ordinary pre-war years.

It is estimated that at least 100,000 additional American civilians will be needed to do whatever it is we have to do in Germany, for an undefined period of time estimated as high as twenty-five years.

Among the other half-revealed problems is that of helping feed our recent enemies while our own nation grapples with a grave food shortage.

Nothing definite has yet been said on what is to happen to the German people themselves, and their vast industrial machinery and resources.

Proposals range from vindictive "Carthagizing" of Germany to a most liberal program of aid in restoring a sound and home-ruled economy.

Most of the talk is of a hard peace, yet the tangible steps, as reported by correspondents, are far from harsh.

The Saar coal and iron mines have been reopened, according to news accounts, with 5000 German workmen picking up just where they left off under Hitler. Trucks are reported already to be rolling off the lines at the auto plant at Cologne. Breweries in certain areas already have the go-ahead signal. Among the host of smaller plants allowed to resume are listed such odds-and-ends as fountain-pen factories and tobacco-processing plants.

Meanwhile in liberated France economic conditions are so chaotic, and political trends so confused as an aftermath of the Left-Wing victories in the recent elections, that even vitally necessary production is being held up.

Coal, for instance, which is desperately scarce throughout Europe, has been caught by a general strike in the Lyon and Rhone department, with school teachers, movie houses, department stores, cafes and street cars also involved.

We therefore have the amazing picture of defeated

HONOR MEMORY OF THE SOLDIER DEAD

Ceremonies Witnessed By Large Groups at Corn-wells, Tullytown

HAVE SHORT PARADES

Large groups gathered yesterday in two nearby communities to witness Memorial season exercises, honoring those who served their country well and who have since gone to eternal rest.

The ceremonies were conducted at Tullytown and Cornwells Heights by the members of Robert W.
Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, with individuals from the two communities and from Bristol participating.

At Cornwells Heights the units marched from the Bensalem Township high school to the Vandegrift burial grounds where service took place. In line were the members of Bracken Post; the Junior Cadet Corps of the post; and some serjeants.

At the burial grounds Jacob C.
Schmidt, Jr., past commander of the post, introduced Harry Chapin, the commander, who spoke briefly.
Other program numbers were:
Prayer, Lehman Strauss, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Bristol; short address, Mr. Strauss; selection, "Glory to Trumpets," cadet Corps.

Lt. Mary I. Brown Is Assigned To Hospital

RICHMOND, Va., May 21—Assignment of Lieutenant Mary I.
Brown, Army Nurse Corps, to duty at McGuire General Hospital, Richmond, Va., is announced by Colonel P. E. Dugins, hospital commanding officer.

Lt. Brown, who was employed at Friends' Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases at the time she entered the army March 15, 1945, completed basic training at Camp Lee, Va., before reporting to Mc-Guire General Hospital. Her professional training was received at Abington Memorial Hospital.

Lt. Brown is the daughter of George A. Brown, 315 Garfield street, Bristol.

McGuire General Hospital is the largest named medical installation operated by the army in the Third Service Command and has been designated to specialize in neurosurgery and neurology cases transferred from other general hospitals for definitive treatment.

Miss Koplin will be married to Dr. Eugene Feinstein, of New York City, next month.

4 MORE PRISONERS OF WAR ARRIVE AT HOMES NEAR HERE

Pfc. Edward J. Flanagan, A Bristolian, is Among Them

ALL LOST WEIGHT

Experienced Long Marches, Long Hours of Work,
Little Food

Four more young men who have been prisoners of war of the Germans have arrived at their homes in this section.

They are: PFC Edward J. Flanagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Flanagan, Fergusonsville; Sgt. Ray-ness Floyd Ghanit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ghanit, West Bristol; PFC Edward W. Ellison, husband of Ruth Shire Ellison, Croydon; and PFC Edmond B. Connolly, son of Bartley Connolly, 387 Ponstreet.

Pfc. Flanagan, liberated April 13 following three months in German prison camps, looks with joy on the 64 days' furlough that stretches before him. After that he anticipates two weeks at one of the fine army hotels in Atlantic City, N. J., before returning to duty. Tired and sick of the long hours of work with little sleep, and the meagre, course food while in prison camps, he is glad to be home. Craving sweets, Flanagan promptly ordered eight ice cream sundaes of different flavors, and a pint of ice cream, following his dinner upon arrival at Camp Kilmer, N. J., on May 15th.

Up early this next morning at Fort Dix, N. J., he consumed with other breakfast items six eggs; and for dinner two thick, juicy steaks, with potatoes, peas, white bread, etc. He lost 15 pounds but has regained most of it.

After his capture by the Germans on January 9th, Flanagan hiked for 200 miles into the heart of Germany. There he was set to work on the railroads. But the 15 hours of work daily, plus the 20 miles train ride to and from employment, plus fare of black bread, turnip soup and grass soup, pulled him down.

There was left only about five hours a night for sleep. "They gave, under ordinary conditions, just about enough to live on, and this plus Red Cross packages weekly made sufficient. But since about December, other prisoners said, things became bad for the Germans themselves and for the prisoners in consequence, and the food was lessened. Railroad lines were knocked out by the Allies and transportation crippled, so that Red Cross packages and other foods could not get through. Consequently the prisoners found the food becoming more inadequate." In the three months he was imprisoned Flanagan received only one Red Cross package.

Flanagan, who has been in the army since August, 1943, was imprisoned most of the time at Leipzig. "We knew all about the Allied advances," he commented. "Radios were well concealed by the prisoners. None except those who had built them knew just where they were located, and we didn't want to know. We were given a report every night by our men on the highlights of the war. Even the German officers told us occasionally that we would be home soon, although they were careful not to say it in front of the German guards. Those radios were built of pieces sneaked into camp bit by bit."

One evening at dusk as 32 of the prisoners were enroute back to camp after the day's work, the Americans started shelling the train and nearby town. "We jumped off the train and into the ditch for safety. And when our tanks and half-tracks came along the fellows took us aboard, and we pushed on with them during the night. The next day we were started back to an American base, then flown from Nuremberg to Paris." The journey across the Atlantic was by boat.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Report Clashes in Lebanon and Syria

London—Open clashes between civilians and French and Senegalese troops in Lebanon and Syria have broken out in several places, the Lebanese legation in Cairo reported today.

The legation report said that 17 persons had been wounded in Damascus and two more in Beirut. At the same time a number of French cars in both cities and along the highways were reported seized and burned by enraged civilians.

The legation report of violence followed a Reuter's dispatch from Beirut saying the governments of Syria and Lebanon had protested the arrival of fresh French troops in the Levant. A later dispatch said the Lebanese government, after conferences with youth movement leaders, announced that the general strike now in progress would end tomorrow morning.

While attending this Army Air Forces Training Command school he received instruction in the airplane hydraulic mechanic course, and in various technical operations vital to the maintenance of the country's fighting planes.

WISCONSIN AT WAR

When the war started, Wisconsin relaxed its labor standards to permit women to work nights and 17-year-old boys to work in canneries.
It reduced strikes from 65 in 1941 with a loss of 521,315 man-days to a very small figure and introduced effective safety measures. It all adds up to vastly stepped-up production of food and a greater future for industry in the state. Wisconsin cans more peas and raises more hemp than any other state. It has more dairy cows. It's America's ability to produce—on the farm and in the cities—that really stands behind every War Bond you buy.

A TIDE SETS IN

Destruction of shipping in the Sea of Japan by American naval air forces is creating a situation that will make the invasion of Japan feasible in the not distant future.

Japan, without a competent navy and air force, is daily becoming more vulnerable as to supplies. The Japs tried to offset their loss of South China sea lanes by getting railroads into operation from Malay to Korea to transport East Indies and southeastern Asia war materials. General Chennault announces that the road has been put out of operation. Even if it were operating, the supplies would have to move across the Sea of Japan. And now that ocean route is being disrupted by American bombers.

Admiral Nimitz has predicted that every part of Japan will soon be brought under constant naval air bombardment to supplement the activities of the B-29s. Cut off from supplies and laid waste by air attack, Japan will be in poor position to resist a full scale landing of Allied troops.

That such a landing is not too far distant is indicated by the announcement that American troops already are being moved out of Italy toward the Pacific war theater. Presumably they will aid in establishing bases for the accommodation of the millions that will follow if they are needed. British and American troops on the Western Front will follow soon.

A great tide is setting in against the surviving Axis aggressor—a tide that soon will en-gulf all Japan.

THE COST

Not for decades will an accurate total of all losses—human and material—in the European war be arrived at. Estimates of human losses are being made first because they are easiest to calculate.

Battle casualties were 9,000-000 or 10,000,000 killed and an equal number totally disabled.
Millions more suffered less severe wounds. Axis and Allied battle losses were approximately equal —approximately 15,000,000. Germany suffered four-fifths of the Axis losses and Russia two-thirds of the Allied losses. American casualties in Europe were approximately 800,000, including 145,000 killed.

Civilian figures are harder to compute. Millions succumbed to starvation, disease, bombing and torture in Nazi concentration camps. Surviving millions will bear permanent scars of body and mind. Of Poland's prewar 35,000,000, it is believed 10,000-000 have perished or disappeared.
British civilian casualties numbered 145,000.

This is a ghastly sacrifice on the altar of totalitarian greed for power. Scars of earth and wreckage of man-made structures can be restored, but there are wounds not so easily healed. In ways not now foreseen the cost in human terms will be evident when those living today are succeeded by fu-

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Dec. 11, 1941. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The new schooner "Margaret May," Lemuel Jarvis, captain, was wrecked during the storm on Saturday night last, on the shoals at Chincoteague, about 60 miles north of Cape Charles. She was loaded with lumber, and on her third trip.
She was built at a cost of $32,000, a large portion of which was owned by Bristolians. The following persons have shares in her: Capt.
Lemuel Jarvis, $8,000; Capt. Nelson Jarvis, $4,000; Jesse W. Knight, $2,000; Capt. J. Cone, $2,000; George W. Allen's estate, $1,000; Philip Halzell, $500; H. Gates Peters, $500; Capt. Samuel P. Porter, $500; Mrs. William Simons, $500. While some of the parties do not have any hopes of the vessel being saved, others think that she can be got off without material injury. . . . It is stated that she is still in fair condition, that the tide ebbs and flows in her, and that after being pumped out, she may be floated.

The lower floor of Mohican hall is being prepared for a skating rink. . . .
The bell at St. Mark's Church is cracked and has not been rung for several days.
The regular meeting of burgess and borough council was held on Monday evening, at which there were present J. Wesley Wright, burgess; Nelson Green, A. K. Joyce, A.
Lochner, Clarence N. Peirce, George A. Shoemaker, Joseph Sherman, William Tabram and James Wright. . . .
The ordinance committee reported an ordinance prohibiting the use of sling shots within the borough limits. The report was on motion accepted. . . . Daniel Cambell of Oxford Valley, drove over a mortar heap on Buckley street one dark night and broke his way on down. His bill for repairs amounting to $10.35 was presented and referred to the street committee. . . . The constable presented a list of remits and asked for warrants for the arrest of 85 persons for non-payment of borough taxes.

Elias Eastburn, sheriff-elect, has appointed as his deputy Joseph Heist, of New Hope. Sheriff Heist steps down and out on January 1, 1945. . . .
(Following items from Bucks Co.
Gazette, issue of December 18, 1884.)
The schooner "Margaret May," which was grounded on the shoals of Chincoteague, was gotten off on last Friday afternoon, and arrived at Philadelphia Saturday night. She appears to be in good condition.

Joseph Heep, superintendent of the casimere department of the Livingston mills, who was suddenly taken ill last July, died at his home in Utica, N. Y., on Tuesday last. . . .
Capt. H. Clay Beatty Post, No. 73, of Bristol, has elected the following officers: Commander, Samuel P. Carter; senior vice-commander, Duncan Forsyth; junior vice-commander, Andrew Murphy; quartermaster, J. Wesley Wright; surgeon, J. Reed Osman; chaplain, Hugh B.
Mackie; officer of the guard, Edward Hoedding; ordnance sergeant, Edward P. Leatherberry; council of administration, John Hellings; delegates to department encampment, J. W. Wright and A. L. Garwood; alternates, Hugh F. Kelly and Harry C. Snyder.

The Bristol Choral Society was fully organized at the meeting held on last Monday evening. Rev. Edward P. Shields was elected president; William V. Leach, vice-president; Kate Phillips, secretary; and William Nevegold, treasurer. P. P.

Germany's coal mines reopening while those of victorious France are closing.

Italy, still virtually prostrate long after liberation, is described as being in little better condition.

And meanwhile our foreign policy continues to be so ill-defined that our American officers do not seem able to decide whether to shoot or to shake hands with captured Nazi leaders.

Postwar relief to stricken Europe after the First World War was handled with speed and efficiency because it was centralized in the hands of one man; and because the New Deal's alphabetical agencies weren't on deck to gum up the works.

There are two things which President Truman ought to do immediately:

First, tell the American people the facts about the growing mess in Europe.

Second, make up his mind what his Administration ought to be doing about it, and get the wheels turning.

This is a time for candor and determination—not for censorship and bureaucratic indecision.

A spirit of unrest and defeatism is beginning to manifest itself in many corners of Europe—far more dangerously among some of the liberated nations that we wish to consider our friends than in Germany itself—which can rob the Allies of all Victory's expected benefits of peace, harmony and prosperity.

TILT DRAFT

Miss Luella M. Kishpaugh Is Wed to Sgt. Wm. Walker

member of the army, just from three years service in European theatre of war, took a bride here on Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kishpaugh, 22 Fleetwood Road, Bristol Township, and William Walker, son of Mr. Mrs. Charles Walker, 607 Bath street, took their vows in Rev. R. C. rectory at four o'clock. Rev. Fr. Paul Baird performed ceremony in the company of bridesmaids and groomsmen.

The two young women attending the former Miss Kishpaugh are: Helen Cahill, Bath street, and Miss Mildred Kishpaugh, Fleetwood Road, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and the groom's attendant was Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, Bath street.

Local numbers were provided by Frank Kowal, Lafayette street, and Miss Katherine Keating, of Bath street, serving as accompanist.

The white bridal gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice of satin, a yoke and full skirt of mouseline de soie. The neckline was and, and sleeves were cut long, gown buttoned down the back, ruffle extended from the middle of the front of the skirt to the long train. Small satin bows also were as trim for the skirt. Her fingertip veil of net was attached to a tiara of orange blossoms. Slipper shoes were white kid and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

The gowns of the bride's attendants had bodices of silk jersey and skirt of net, floor length. Sleeves were shirred with necklaces of sweetheart style. Sleeves of elbow length. Miss Cahill wore a gown of dusty pink, and Miss Mildred Kishpaugh wore an aqua gown, slippers of white, and carried yellow roses. Her floral headresses matched her gowns, these having face veils which were shoulder length.

The bride's travelling ensemble consisted of a wool suit, bolero in gray tone, white blouse, black straw sailor hat, black slippers and white gloves. Her corsage was of gardenias.

To her attendants Mrs. Walker presented gold crosses; the groom presenting the best man with a tie clip and collar pin.

Our Heavenly Father we come to Thee thru the Lord Jesus. We thank Thee for the victory over evil aggressors, but pray that we shall be kept humble in the hour of triumph, lest pride overtake us and cause us to fall. May we not forget that all praise belongs to Thee for without Thee we can do nothing. Amen.

BRISTOL TWP. NINE WINS FIRST GAME; HARRIMAN LOSES

12 Errors Spoil Harriman A. C.'s Chance To Win The Game

FINAL SCORE IS 11 TO 7

Earl Wagner Strikes Out 16 Batters As Croydon A. C. Wins 2nd League Game

Twelve errors spoiled the Harriman A. C.'s opener yesterday afternoon on Leedom's field as the sixth warders were defeated by the Bristol Township High School, 11-7, in a Bristol Youth League match.

Percy G. Ford, one of the business men supporting the Harriman team, tossed out the first ball to inaugurate the home season of the Harrimanites.

The Harriman team rallied in the seventh to deadlock the score at 7-7 but the visitors scored four times in the last two frames to cop the verdict. Leighton was the winning pitcher.

Earl Wagner struck out sixteen batters as the Croydon A. C. won its second league contest. Wagner relieved "Jimmy" DeRisi in the first inning after Third Ward has scored three runs. Final score was Croydon Y. M. A., 14; Third Ward, 3.

In the other league game, Jack Hanson pitched the Croydon A. C. to an easy triumph over Edgely, 6-1. Hansen held the Edgelyites to five hits. Bennett led the batters of the day, getting two out of four.

FLEETWINGS TO MEET AMERICAN STEEL IX

The league-leading American Steel team will meet the Fleetwings team this evening on Leedom's field in a Trenton Industrial League contest starting at 6.15 o'clock.

It is most likely that Joe Sagolla will hurl for the victorious Fleetwings team and he will be opposed by Norm Jones who beat the J. A.

Roebbing team last Friday night. Manager Johnny Mulholland intends to use Bernie Lyczak behind the plate tonight and shift Johnny Welsh to the outfield. The airplane workers are lacking in hitting power and this move is being made in order to give the line-up more batting punch.

This will be a busy week for the Fleetwings and Voltz-Texaco teams in the circuit. Tomorrow evening the Fleetwings team will travel to Trenton to play the Prison Officers, while Wednesday evening Eastern Aircraft will play Fleetwings on the high school field.

Friday evening Voltz-Texaco goes to Trenton to play the John A. Roebbing team, while on Sunday Fleetwings meets Eastern Aircraft on Wetzel field.

At Fort Dix Flanagan met Ghannt, and for the first time the two learned that each other had been a prisoner. They had attended Edgely school together.

PFC Connolly was a prisoner for 16 months and 12 days. During that time he went from 165 pounds down to 110, but has regained most of it. He, too, had a long march when the prisoners were evacuated as the Russians advanced. During the 550-mile trek the prisoners were fed black bread, soup and coffee he states. "And when the Red Cross packages arrived they soon disappeared," he commented as he told of how when such packages reached them in small quantities due to transportation difficulties there would at times be nine to share one parcel. The men, during the march, would be taken into a barn to sleep, with the pigs being hustled out of the barn, some straw spread, and the men would lie down.

Connolly worked with others on the railroads in Germany, the prisoners working the same hours as civilians, 10 to 15 a day. Information on progress of the war was secured from the Poles and other slave laborers.

The prisoners were sleeping in a factory building when American tanks lumbered into the yard. "We nearly broke the arms of those 'guys' as we shook their hands," he commented. Connolly told of his craving for milk, with all food here tasting good.

PFC Ellison, who is home for 60 days' furlough as are the other young men, dropped about 60 pounds in weight, but has regained much of that lost. He too experienced a long trek, marching 550 miles in two months.

Mrs. Ellison has been residing with her parents at West Bristol, and since her husband returned at the end of the week they and their little son have moved into their residence on Second avenue, Croydon. Ellison was put to work on a farm in Germany. He was first reported missing on February 4, 1944, and later it was learned he had been taken prisoner in Italy. Ellison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ellison, of Eddington. The West Bristol resident, Sgt. Ghannt, had been a prisoner a shorter period of time. He had been missing as of March 31, this year, and two weeks after the first message was received his parents were informed that he was safe.

corps; salute by the firing squad; sounding of taps; dismissal by Mr. Schmidt.

The program at Tullytown was presented with but slight changes from the announced numbers. "Jackie" Swangler gave a recitation "In Memoriam," in place of Dorothy Carman, the latter reading "Brother of Mine," which had been written by Mrs. Arthur Leigh. The poem was in honor of Mrs. Leigh's brother, William Hubbs, who is overseas. The speaker of the day was John Leslie Kilcoyne, Esq.

A large group gathered for the Tullytown ceremony, and also witnessed the marching units from the western end of the borough to Tullytown Cemetery. The Bracken Post, the Cadets, and school children took part in the short parade and also in the exercises.

tary preparedness. From 1919 to 1940 their ideas prevailed and the country was lulled into a false sense of security. Even though wars were almost constant during that period in some part of the world. These same misguided groups are hoping to repeat that performance after World War II. The American Legion is determined that this must not happen again. Now is the time for action. Now, while we are awakened to the cost of following any other program; now, when we see plainly the result of our past folly; now, as we read the long lists of casualties, many of which would have been avoided had we not been misled by the wishful thinkers into neglecting our plain duty to the nation.
